Extract B

Indonesia and natural resources

Indonesia is rich in natural resources and specialises in raw materials and primary products such as oil, gas, coal, palm oil and metal ores. Indonesia has large reserves of nickel, bauxite and copper. Demand for these materials, used for aluminium production and renewables* is growing globally. Indonesia has gained from the rising prices of these materials.

5

Indonesia is the world's largest producer of nickel, an important component of electric vehicle batteries. It is estimated to have 30% of the world's reserves of nickel, about 21 million tonnes. Nickel related exports have increased from $1.1bn five years ago to nearly $20.9bn in 2022.

10

While most nickel is used in the stainless-steel industry, the aim is to begin extracting more higher-grade material for use in batteries. Indonesia is expected to provide a significant part of the new nickel supply needed by the global Electric Vehicle (EV) industry.

* A natural resource or source of energy that is not depleted by use, such as water, wind, or solar power

Extract C

Indonesia and Foreign Direct Investment (FDI)

South Korea's LG Energy Solution, a battery maker and Hyundai, a car manufacturer, have formed a joint venture. They are building Indonesia's first electric vehicle battery plant near the capital Jakarta. The factory will begin production in 2024 with an annual capacity of 10 GWh worth of battery cells, enough for over 150,000 electric vehicles. Hyundai is building an EV plant nearby. China's CATL, the world's biggest EV battery maker, is investing in an EV battery plant and Tesla is considering building a factory, both will be in Indonesia. 5

To encourage FDI and create enough jobs for its young population, the Indonesian Government has eased strict employment regulations to make Indonesia's workforce more competitive. 10

Over the last eight years Indonesia has invested heavily in new infrastructure. It has built 2,042 km of toll roads, 16 airports, 18 ports, 38 new dams and the Jakarta-Bandung high-speed railway.

Some potential investors are concerned about the level of corruption in the country. Indonesia scored 38 out of 100 on the Transparency International corruption index – the lower the score, the greater the level of corruption. This is the same score as Brazil but lower than that of Vietnam and China. 15

Is Mars the answer to Hotel Chocolat's global expansion problems?

Hotel Chocolat the UK's biggest independent chocolate maker has been sold to Mars the confectionery multinational. In 2023 Hotel Chocolat recorded a pre-tax loss of £6.9m and a 10% fall in revenue. This followed unsuccessful attempts to expand overseas into Japan and the US.

5

Mars has plans for Hotel Chocolat to sell globally. It sees the takeover as a chance to strengthen its global portfolio with a premium UK brand.

Annie Brown, general manager for UK Consulting at Brand Finance says the sale indicates a "major transition" for Hotel Chocolat, which will allow it to overcome its problems. "Despite Hotel Chocolat's strong brand, investment and time are essential for the brand to grow internationally."

10

However, Annie Brown warns that Mars may face similar problems to Ferrero that acquired Thorntons as did Mondelez when it acquired Green & Blacks. Neither has been totally successful, with both brands performing badly.

Extract E

Bad weather helps sales climb at Mountain Warehouse

Mountain Warehouse sells outdoor clothing and footwear. It started as a single shop in the UK in 1997 and now has 350 shops in eight countries. More shops are planned after the bad summer weather in 2023 pushed sales to record levels. In July and August 2023 it sold 350,000 waterproof jackets. Pre-tax profits for the outdoor clothing chain increased to £6.7m in the first six months of 2023.

5

In 2024, the privately owned Mountain Warehouse plans to open between 40 and 50 more shops in the UK and other countries. It will open its first Mountain Warehouse shops in Australia after success in the US, Canada and New Zealand.

Coca-Cola's* diversification gives it an edge in a difficult market

Coca-Cola is one of the most easily recognised global brands. While growth in emerging markets is still possible, developed markets such as the US are becoming more health-conscious and sales of Coca-Cola have fallen. To combat this Coca-Cola has diversified into other categories, such as water, sports drinks and ready-to-drink coffee and tea beverages.

Extract G

Bentley

As one of the most famous manufacturers of luxury cars, it may come as a surprise that Bentley also makes sunglasses. Its most expensive pair, the Bentley Platinum sunglasses are priced at $45 276. The business now has a luxury range of products unrelated to cars including luggage, coffee cups and clothing.

Extract H

Global businesses compete for the ice cream market

Mars has invested about 500 million yuan in building its first ice cream factory in China. The factory produced its first batch of products at the end of 2022. "The massive consumer market and taste for premium ice cream products have boosted the confidence of Mars in expanding its ice cream business in China," said Tom Leemans, president of Mars Global Ice Cream Business.
