Kveta delivered scaffolding, ordered by Andil, to the building site he was working on. However, Andil would only pay Kveta half of the agreed amount for the scaffolding, stating it was delivered late.

Kveta consumed a large amount of vodka and was very annoyed with Andil. Wanting to scare Andil, she loosened a number of bolts on the scaffolding, making it unsafe to use.

Andil started to climb the scaffolding, which partially collapsed, breaking some bricks. Andil was not hurt but shaken.

(b) Evaluate Kveta's possible criminal liability for any property offences she may have committed and any appropriate defences.

4 Edith hired John, a professional gardener, to supply and lay new turf in her back garden. Edith told John she wanted the best turf available and, on John's recommendation, she ordered new turf he described as 'of the best quality'.

John removed the old turf and then told Edith he would come back later to finish the work. John did not lay the new turf until six months later. However, the new turf died soon after John had completed the work because he had not watered it correctly. Edith had the turf inspected and it was found to be of inferior quality.

(a) Identify the terms implied by legislation into the contract between John and Edith.
